

Airport Sweep

The apparel logistics supply chain requires that any service provider be well versed and established in the strategic US gateway airports, and fully understand the constraints involved in working with the airline companies themselves. There is no time for learning here as airline systems must be complied with and shipments must be recovered within a matter of hours to achieve our customer's desired transit time standards.

Dynamic Delivery owns and operates specialized airport "sweep" transportation services to all the US gateway airports, including LAX, JFK, and MIA. This includes daily sweeps of all the airlines facilities, recovery of airfreight containers of all specifications, from small size corrugated containers up to and including over-height M1 airline pallets and containers. We also specialize in transporting loose hanging garments (garment-on-hanger/GOH)) and carton shipments. Our fleet includes open roller bed trailers, closed roller bed trailers, GOH equipped trucks and trailers, and tractors equipped with state-of-the-art satellite tracking. All our drivers are equipped with radio and cell communications systems. Our drivers and helpers are all experienced GOH and Carton handlers, and well versed in the conditions and procedures of the various airline operations and CFS facilities.

Very importantly, Dynamic owns and operates full CFS services and warehousing capacity at the airports. Services include AMS customs entry, freight recovery, de-consolidation and consolidation. Our airport freight management teams and operations are well known in the airport community for quick reliability and full accountability. We work closely with all our customers' Brokers and Forwarders to coordinate and expedite the smooth transition of inbound shipments from the moment an aircraft lands to our customers domestic DC's.

Dynamic provides full airfreight trans-loading services, specializing in hanging garments and Flat Pack apparel shipments. We are fully capable of stripping air cans, verifying contents against packing list, and providing the receiving information electronically back to our customers. Our operations have the capacity to offer staging opportunities to consolidate air shipments with any ocean or air shipments that may be on hand to help our customers realize cost savings wherever possible. Our turn time is 24 hours, including pickup at the airport, strip, verify and trans-load to outbound carrier.

We are able to share all shipment status event updates for any service we provide in real time to our customers via EDI uploads to supply chain management systems such as Tradebeam or Red Prairie, or enter status updates into any other web applications and portals. We also provide full customer access to our own internal tracking systems online with a full range of operations and cost accounting data-sharing options. See Technology section for more information on our capabilities.
