

Regional LTL

A regional LTL transportation resource presence is a must for any service provider trying to keep up with the demands of the apparel industry's supply chain. Having a truck available at a moments notice is crucial to late breaking PO confirmations and "just in time" arrival of product from overseas or domestic shipping locations. Every apparel logistics supply chain traffic group, manager, or coordinator needs an established reliable LTL trucking resource on their team to be successful in their logistics.

Dynamic's regional transportation LTL trucking operations are well known throughout the industry for fast, reliable transportation resources dedicated to the apparel supply chain. Dynamic operates more than 200 power units and more than 500 trailers in the strategic gateways of LA, NY, and Miami. This includes sending trucks of any specification daily to any place apparel is shipped from in these gateway regions, including airports, piers, railheads, and warehouses and DC's within a 100 mile radius of the commercial zones.

Dynamic Delivery also specializes in transporting loose hanging garments (GOH/Garment on Hanger) wherever needed. Our fleet includes open roller bed trailers, closed roller bed trailers, GOH equipped trucks and trailers, and tractors equipped with state-of-the-art satellite tracking. All non-power units are also equipped with GPS tracking systems. All our drivers are equipped with radio and cell communications systems. Our drivers and helpers are all experienced GOH and Carton handlers, and well versed in the conditions and procedures of full accountability. Where the local fleet cannot reach, they have Dynamic Express line haul fleet close at hand to cover the farther locations.
