

Consolidation

Consolidation wherever possible in the apparel logistics supply chain is the key to cost-effective equipment utilization, eliminating wasted transportation equipment resources, prepares shipments before shipping to final destinations, and alerts destination receiving operations with time to make preparations to process into inventory, a retail distribution center, or to be Forwarded to another logistics service provider for overseas transportation.

Dynamic's consolidation services perform the apparel shipment handling links between the transportation service providers in the manufacturers and retailers supply chain logistics. Dynamic makes it easy for all parties to execute their transportation responsibilities throughout the process. We are geared for "Quick Response" orders, and routinely expedite "hot" PO's and shipments as required.
